RECEIVED THEIR UNIFORMS

The members of the Boy Scouts' organization of this city have received their uniforms, which are very similar to the regulation uniform of the United States army.

Following are the officers of the Bryan company: Rev. Glenn Flinn, scout master; Walton Cole, patrol leader; Edgar Derden, assistant patrol leader.

There are over six thousand boy scouts in the United States, and no greater organization for boys was ever inaugurated. It teaches manliness and good citizenship. A scout must be trustworthy, brave, clean, kind, helpful, thrifty and obedient. He must be reverent, courteous, cheerful, friendly and loyal. Any organization that has for its object the instilling of these principles into the lives of our boys is worthy the support and encouragement of all.

GEN. STODDARD AT BROWNWOOD

Most Favorable Mention of Him and Col. G. I. Goodwin, a Former Citizen of Bryan.

Gen. H. B. Stoddard, past most eminent grand master of the Grand Encampment of the United States, reached Brownwood this afternoon from his home at Bryan to attend the meeting of the grand commandery. General Stoddard has the peculiar distinction of having been the only Texan who has ever occupied this exalted position. In addition to his being most eminent grand master, he is a past grand commander of Texas, and is probably the best known Knight Templar in the world. He is making headquarters at the Southern Hotel.

Years ago Col. G. I. Goodwin lived in Bryan, where he and General Stoddard were near neighbors and close friends, and it was a real pleasure to see these two old soldiers renew their former friendship and acquaintance. General Stoddard has not missed a grand commandery meeting within the memory of any of the modern Knights Templar, and has acted as installing officer of the grand officers for a great many years.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Convicts Taken to Huntsville.

The state transfer agent was here yesterday and took the prisoners convicted at the recent term of the district court to the penitentiary at Huntsville. There were ten men, eight negroes and two white.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Constable P. H. Arrington brought to the county jail in this city today a German teamster, John Alfinger, employed at the rock quarries near Milligan, who had gashed himself up badly in an attempt to commit suicide. The man is about forty years of age. He had three knife wounds, one in the throat, one near his heart and one in his side. None of them, however, is thought to be fatal.

Editor Hodges Here.

Editor Walter Hodges, formerly at Franklin, Robertson county, but now of Nocona, Montague county, was in Bryan a short while today on business and paid The Eagle a pleasant call. While here he was shown over part of the city and was pleased at the building in progress, especially that on Main street. He was also pleased to see the spring-like appearance of everything in this section, remarking that Montague county, which is on Red river in North Texas, did not have a green leaf in it at this time. While Hodges was known only as a country printer at the time he was located at Franklin, he is now doing well, looks prosperous and happy, and is mayor of his town, Nocona. He has developed that hustling spirit that forces men to do things and is helping to develop his town and county. He is also a candidate for state senator from his district with a fair chance to win, and with his push, energy and "pep" we predict a successful campaign for him.

A Curious Species of Birds.

Among the curious birds of the East Indies is a species that is nearly extinct. These birds always travel in pairs that are hardly ever separated. The beak of the male is short and strong, while that of the female is fine, long and curved. The male's work is to break with his strong bill the tough bark of trees in order that his mate may introduce her pointed beak into the holes dug into the trunk by insects and so extract food. When the male detects an "insect haunt" he lays it bare, and the female pulls forth the prey with her beak, divides it in two, gives the male his portion and eats the other, continuing the process until both have had enough. Consequently the death of one or the other means starvation to the survivor, the female being unable to break the bark of trees and the male to take out the prey when its presence is exposed.

"Hard" Drinking Water.

Many persons have long believed that it is injurious to the health to drink "hard" water. Medical authorities now assert that there is no foundation for the belief, and some maintain that hard water is even superior to soft water for drinking purposes. They point out the fact that ordinary food contains a great deal more lime than is to be found in even a larger quantity of water than any one would be likely to drink. Gout is said to occur alike among those who do and those who do not drink hard water. According to the statistics quoted in the London Engineer, the death rate in "hard water towns" is actually less than in "soft water towns." It is also the fact that most of the natural waters that have proved valuable in treating diseases attributed to the drinking of hard water themselves contain no small proportion of lime salts.

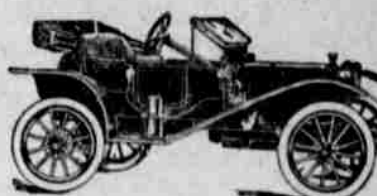

Bothering a Duelist.

Brantome, a French author, in "Dueling Stories of the Sixteenth Century," tells of the code then in vogue. It was allowed in the challenge to stipulate as many different weapons as one pleased without specifying the particular ones with which one would actually fight. The antagonist was bound to provide himself with all. One duelist insisted "on the provision of no less than thirty different kinds of armament, for foot and horseback; nay, he even specified the kind of horse—courseurs, blood horses from Spain and Turkey, thoroughbreds, cobs, some in harness with ears and tail clipped, some saddled in jennet style, some with heavy plated armor and so on. The object was not only to take his adversary by surprise, but to put him to enormous expense and exhaust his resources."

BIG SURPRISE TO MANY IN BRYAN

Local people are surprised at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler's-ka, the German appendicitis remedy. E. R. Emmel, druggist, states that this simple remedy antiseptizes the digestive system and draws off the impurities so thoroughly that A SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY.
